The parties request consolidation because the above six cases involve common issues of fact and law. Consolidation would promote judicial convenience and economy given the number of potential witnesses that otherwise would be required to give the same testimony in multiple proceedings. This Motion is supported by the following Memorandum of Points and Authorities.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. Factual Background

As shown above, there are six separate lawsuits that have been filed by plaintiffs who allege they developed Salmonella Newport infections in the summer of 2020 after allegedly consuming onions grown by defendant Thomson. All plaintiffs are represented by the law firms of Murphy and Murphy and Marler Clark. The sole defendant in all six cases is Thompson International Inc., which is represented by the law firm of Greenan, Peffer, Sallander & Lally LLP.

The Court has issued scheduling orders in the first four cases listed above. The first four cases have been assigned to Judge Jennifer L. Thurston. Judge Sheila K. Oberto is the Temporary Magistrate Judge in all four cases. These four cases have the same discovery deadlines, but different trial dates. Non-expert deadlines for the four cases are December 12, 2022.

Austin v. Thomson International Inc., Case No. 1:22-cv-00388-AWI-BAK is currently assigned to Judge Anthony W. Ishii. Mandatory Scheduling Conference is set for August 16, 2022.

Sams v. Thomson International Inc., Case No. 1:22-cv-00387-DAD-BAK is currently assigned to Judge Dale A. Drozd. Mandatory Scheduling Conference is set for July 7, 2022.

Pre-trial coordination of discovery of defendant Thomson in six cases would prevent duplicative discovery, thereby promoting the just and efficient conduct of litigation. The complexity and similarities of the cases warrant coordination.

Substantial discovery against defendant Thomson will be pursued through written discovery, corporate representative depositions, third-party witness depositions, records production and expert witness testimony. It is expected that a number of expert witnesses across multiple disciplines will be retained to address the various scientific and medical issues.

Coordination will minimize the potential for inconsistent rulings on the common legal and evidentiary issues involved in these cases, prevent disparate treatment of defendant and avoid litigation difficulties of managing these cases before different judges. Placing all actions before a single judge, who can formulate and monitor a pretrial discovery program, will advance judicial economy, reduce the overall litigation management burdens and conserve the resources of the parties, their counsel and the judiciary. All of the factors discussed above weigh in favor of consolidation as it serves to "avoid unnecessary costs or delay" of the litigation as contemplated by Fed. R. Civ. P. 42(a).

III. Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, the parties respectfully request that discovery of Thomson in all six cases be consolidated pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 42(a)(3):

- (1) That the discovery of Thomson conducted and completed in one of the above six cases may be used as if provided in all six cases; provided, however, that plaintiffs in the six cases shall be limited to a total of 25 interrogatories;
- (2) That each plaintiff shall have the right to use the deposition testimony of any Thomson witness as if provided in all six cases; provided, however, that plaintiffs in the six cases shall be limited to a total of 10 depositions and shall not be entitled to increase the number of hours for each deposition beyond the statutory cap of 1 day of 7 hours;

ORDER RE: CONSOLIDATION OF DISCOVERY OF DEFENDANT THOMSON INTERNATIONAL, INC. IN SIX CASES

The Court has reviewed the parties' above stipulation motion to consolidate discovery. (Doc. 13.) Six cases have been filed against Defendant Thomson International, Inc. ("Thomson") in this Court:

- 1. Sartori v. Thomson International Inc., Case No. 1:22-cv-00027-JLT-BAK (SKO)
- 2. Garofalo v. Thomson International Inc., Case No. 1:22-cv-00037-JLT-BAK (SKO)
- 3. Paquette v. Thomson International Inc., Case No. 1:22-cv-00034-JLT-BAK (SKO)
- Jackson v. Thomson International Inc., Case No. 1:22-cv-00038-JLT-BAK (SKO) 4.
- 5. Austin v. Thomson International Inc., Case No. 1:22-cv-00388-AWI-BAK
- 6. Sams v. Thomson International Inc., Case No. 1:22-cv-00387-DAD-BAK

Because all six cases arise from allegations against Defendant Thomson for allegedly causing the 2020 Salmonella Newport outbreak, consolidating the discovery of Thomson allows the cases to be handled in the most efficient way and avoid inconsistent results. Consolidation serves the interests of judicial economy by promoting efficiency and saving time for purposes of pretrial discovery and motion practice.

Accordingly, for good cause shown, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that:

- 1. The discovery of Thomson in all six cases is consolidated pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 42(a)(3);
- 2. The discovery of Thomson conducted and completed in one of the above six cases may be used as if provided in all six cases; provided, however, that plaintiffs in the six cases shall be limited to a total of 25 interrogatories;
- 3. Each plaintiff shall have the right to use the deposition testimony of any Thomson witness as if provided in all six cases; provided, however, that plaintiffs in the six cases shall be limited to a total of 10 depositions and shall not be entitled to increase the number of hours for each deposition beyond the statutory cap of 1 day of 7 hours:
